Brian,

Following up on your letter last week and our call earlier this week, we'd like to confirm that relevant DNR Parks staff have been instructed not to discuss any litigation-related matters with any members of the Blue Mounds Friends group. As also discussed, in the event of any need for communication or coordination between DNR and the Friends, DNR's primary point of contact should be superintendent Kevin Swenson.

While DNR continues to dispute the letter's characterization of the interaction between the Friends and Parks staff, I think we all agree that any litigation-related communication should be reserved to the attorneys going forward. I will be the primary litigation contact for DNR for that purpose.

Sincerely,
Gabe
